Thrice Weekly Journal FOR 1854.

DURING the approaching session of the Legislature, the undersigned will continue the publication of the Thrice-Weekly Journal, being Volume X of the same

While the paper will be principally devoted to furnishing a correct Report of Debates and legislative business generally, a fair share of attention will be given to Miscellaneous and News matter.

The peculiar elements constituting the Legislature, upon which devolves the organization of the State government, and the election of an U S Senator, besides action upon many other matters of importance, all go to render the session one of unusual interest.

The Thrice-Weekly Journal will be published on MONDAY, WEDNESDAY and FRIDAY mornings; alternating with the Thrice-Weekly Age, and thus furnishing a daily Legislative paper. The price will be ONE DOLLAR FOR THE SESSION, as usual—payable in advance.

☞ It is desirable that the names of subscribers, accompanied with the money, should be sent in a week at least, before the session commences.

McFarland's BURGLAR and FIRE PROOF SAFES!

THE undersigned would respectfully call the attention of the public to the above unequalled safeguard of property—proof against the devouring element of fire, as well as the most skilful burglar. To MERCHANTS, JEWELLERS, and BANK DIRECTORS, we would only say, examine them and the proofs, and you will be convinced of their superiority over all other manufacture.

Our business is done in a plain, straightforward way, without resorting to humbug or large talk.

Below is one of the many testimonials we are daily receiving from all parts of the country, and which speaks for itself. Messrs. Pond, & Hitchcock's Oil Store was situated directly under the Pearl-st House, and was totally consumed in that great fire of August 23d.

NEW YORK, Aug 23, 1853.

Messrs Wm. McFarland & Co.

Gents—It affords us pleasure to inform you that the Fire and Burglar Proof Safe we purchased of you, preserved our books and papers in the disastrous fire of the Pearl-st House, last evening, in the most perfect manner. Although it was covered throughout the fire with burning Rosin, and other Oils, and directly under a broken gas pipe, in the most intense heat, it remained true to its name, and its contents when taken out were not even scorched, and hardly bore the smell of fire. To any one who is in want of a superior Safe, a perfect safeguard against fire, we cheerfully recommend your manufacture, having had a personal experience of their excellence Yours truly,

SEYMOUR'S GALVANIC

ABDOMINAL SUPPORTER.

THIS apparatus possesses all the mechanical advantages of the Abdominal Supporters now in use, and also some valuable improvements beside the galvanic attachment It has been tested, approved of, and universally adopted in the practice of all the leading Physicians in New York, Boston and all other places where introduced, in the treatment of all Nervous diseases which exhibit themselves under so many different heads, and particularly in the cure of Uterine difficulties. The beneficial results which have uniformly attended the use of this instrument are a sufficient guaranty of its utility and general application. The advantages of this over other Supporters are, it cures by its Galvanic action, presents a smooth surface that does not retain heat or impurities which pass from the system, and can be kept pure and healthful.

The attention of the medical profession is respectfully solicited to an examination and test of the instrument The above Supporters are for sale by GEO. W. EMERSON, Druggist, No. 4 Smith's Block, sole agent for Bangor and vicinity.

Bishop Burgess on the Maine Law.

GARDINER, ME., Aug 22, 1853.

Reverend and Dear Sir: To your queries I reply briefly, in their order.

Q. 1. "Did this prohibitory law originate in the schemes of politicians for other purposes, or did it stand in the Legislature on its own merits?"

A. I have very little knowledge of the operations of politicians amongst us; and, undoubtedly, individual leaders or others, members of parties, may have been influenced by their political interests in sustaining or opposing this measure. But I suppose that, beyond all question, the law originated with persons who were solely concerned for the suppression of intemperance; and that it was passed only because it was believed to be demanded by a great majority of the people for its own merits.

Q. 2. "Has it justified the expectations entertained of it by its friends at the time of its passage?"

A. What were their actual expectations, I cannot venture to say; but every reasonable expectation must have been more than satisfied. Whatever it is in the power of a prohibitory law to accomplish without extreme severity or inquisitorial scrutiny, this law has generally, in my opinion, accomplished. Those who are bent upon obtaining liquor can and do succeed; but it has ceased to be an article of traffic; it has ceased to present its open temptation; the young are comparatively safe; and all the evil of public drinking-shops and bars are removed, together with the interest of a large body of men upholding them for their own pecuniary advantage.

Q. 3. "Have there been any reactions in public opinion, so as to induce the belief that at a future day it might be repealed?"

A. In my opinion, quite the contrary.—Should the law be repealed, which seems in the highest degree improbable, it will be the result merely of political arrangements; but I do not believe that any political party would venture on a measure so hazardous to its own prospects. Undoubtedly many discreet and conscientious persons saw strong objections to some features of the law, and still feel their full force; but multitudes who doubted the expediency of adopting it, would, I believe, regret and resist its repeal

Q. 4. "Has the law been generally executed; and the amount of intoxication been speedily diminished in the State in consequence?"

A. The law has been, I believe, generally executed though not everywhere with equal energy; and the amount of intoxication has been, in consequence, most evidently, strikingly, and even, I think I may say, wonderfully diminished.

Q. 5. "Has the health, wealth, morality and general prosperity of the State been apparently promoted by it?"

A. Unquestionably.

Q. 6. "Has the law been found in its operation to be oppressive to any citizen not guilty of its violation?"

A. So far as I know, not in the least.

In thus answering your inquiries, I would avoid everything like the intrusion of an opinion respecting the practicability or wisdom of such a measure elsewhere. I never appeared here as its public advocate; and I am not blind to such argument as may be urged against legislation, which though it is peculiarly humane in its operations upon persons, is so sweeping with reference to things. Nevertheless, I am most devoutly grateful for the practical working of the law: and believe that to every family in Maine it is of more value than can easily be computed. I am, very faithfully, your friend and brother,

GAZA, PASHALIC OF SYRIA.

MESSRS EDITORS:—We left Sinai on the 13th of April on our way to Palestine. When parties set out upon the long journeys of these deserts, it requires some time to adjust the baggage to the camels, and in general not less to settle the rivalries and jealousies among their owners. During the time when things were thus in a process of preparation for our departure, I occupied myself in going a little distance up the steep granite side of Mount E-Dayr, and took a last view of the walls and gardens of the ancient convent, of the rugged and towering heights of Sinai, and of the great historical plain below me; and felt once more that I stood in the midst of scenes, which had witnessed events and were associated with names as memorable as any in history.

As I stood thus, I noticed at a little distance, huddled together in the sunless clefts of the rocks, a number of Arab women with their little children around them. They were the wives and children, I suppose, of the Arabs who had gone up with us in our ascent of Mount Sinai, or of those who were preparing to conduct us on our journey. Knowing that I had come from a distant land,—a land less poor and desolate and suffering than their own,—they extended their hands and uttered in their own tongue their petition for some small present. This was not unexpected to me, because it is the custom among them;—a custom which is, in some degree, justified by their necessities. I saw them seated among rocks which the ploughshare does not enter, and where wheat does not grow. I saw that they were ragged; and I could hardly doubt that they were hungry. The women in their poverty and ignorance, and differing also in race and in religion, were nevertheless my sisters. Christianity required me thus to regard them. The children were every body's children who has a heart to love them, and I could not believe, although I might differ in this form the opinion of other travelers, that it would hurt either my pocket or my heart to give them the small sum which they asked.

When the Camels were ready, we mounted and set out. The course which we took led us through a portion of the beautiful wady Esch Shekh which I have already had occasion to mention. I speak of the wady or valley which bears this name as beautiful, because, contrary to the anticipations which one is apt to form, there is sometimes surpassing beauty in the physical aspects even of these desolate regions. The succession of lofty cliffs, through which Esch Shekh passes, forms, in this direction, a sort of outworks, and entrance-gateway, if I may so express it, to the secluded and mysterious region of Horeb, of which Sinai is the centre. After leaving this wady at the end of a few hours march, and altering our course with a view to reach the Elanitic gulf, we passed through other wadys and mountain gorges, which continued to gratify in a high degree that sentiment of the beautiful and sublime which is natural to man, and which, in its wonderful power to mark and to reflect the numerous and minute aspects of surrounding objects, may be said to exist like a living mirror in the bottom of the human heart.

Our route, after leaving Esch Shekh, led us through Orfan, Murrah, and Hudhera. In many places in these wadys, which form portions of the more common route from Sinai to Accaba, the mountains rise abruptly on both sides, leaving a narrow path between them, and with such distinctly marked relations on the corresponding sides, that they have the appearance of being worn down or cut in two in the centre. Layers of rock of every variety of kind and color, granite sandstone, limestone, green-stone, intermixed with slate and veins of porphyry, attracted a degree of notice, which in other countries would have been given to the beautiful varieties of trees and flowers. No earth covers them. Washed occasionally by the rains, and polished, if I may so express it, by the blazing contact of sunbeams, they sometimes shine like gems. In some instances the forms were as remarkable as the colors; and the rocks were worn by the action of the elements into variegated shapes of beauty, which reminded us of the columns, statues, and temples of human art. It was often a magic scene, a wilderness of enchantments, probably unseen any where else;—which recalled, while it may be supposed to give an explanation in part, of the gorgeous fictions of the Arabian tales.

It may be proper to say here, that the word Hudhera, or rather the fountain of Hudhera in its vicinity, is supposed by biblical geographers and for reasons which have much weight, to be the Hazeroth of the Scriptures. If this view should generally be adopted as the correct one, it will be found important as indicating with great exactness the first portion of the route of the Israelites from Sinai towards Palestine.

Reaching after a number of days the Elanitic branch of the Red Sea, we encamped at night on its shores, and were refreshed by its welcome breezes. The transition to this novel scene was pleasant, although the desolation on both sides of the gulf was not less marked and complete than that of the regions behind us. But there was this difference. There had been unbroken silence before;—day after day without a sound to break their stillness; but now the voice of the waves, as they dashed gently on the shore, was like sweet sounds of music. In the barren region from which we had just emerged there were neither trees nor flowers to attract the eye with their verdure and variegated beauty; but scattered along the shore of the sea there were numberless sea-shells of exquisite tints and of every variety of form.

Continuing along the western side of the sea, we now proceeded, by an easier march of a number of days, some fifty or sixty miles to Accaba. In only one instance, when a mountainous rock came jutting down upon the water, were we obliged to leave the level shore, and take a more difficult route. The sea, or gulf as it may as properly called, varies in its upper portion from five to twelve miles in width. Such, at least, is the opinion which one would be likely to form, in estimating it by the eye alone. On the side opposite to us, lofty and barren heights touching in some places upon the water; and suspending their huge cliffs over it. This rocky and mountainous region extending along the eastern shore—a region which includes Mount Hor within its limits,—is the ancient land of Idumea,—the residence of the descendants of Esau, and the burial place of Aaron.

At the head of this branch of the Red Sea were once towns of importance, which have now passed away;—particularly Eloth mentioned in the Scriptures, which is the same, I suppose, as the Aila or Aela of the Romans, and Eziongeber, the port of Solomon. David, the father of Solomon, had conquered the Idumeans and the possessions of this port, which was the channel of Arabian and Indian commerce, was a principal source of Solomon's wealth. It is stated of this king, that he "made a navy of ships at Eziongeber, which is beside Eloth, on the shore of the Red Sea, in the land of Edom." The site of Eloth was two miles south of Accaba. The latter is a modern Turkish town of small size, with fortifications of considerable strength; and is the residence of a governor. Reaching it in safety but not without considerable fatigue, we pitched our tents on the plain of Accaba and near its walls, with the Red Sea in front and the mountains of Edom behind us.

The arrangement, which we had made with our Arabs for our conveyance, terminated at Accaba. We could not advance further without the assistance and aid of Shekh Hassan the chief of the Alloween Arabs. We waited for him some time. He was absent in the Idumean mountains which are inhabited by his people; and did not come to us till after the lapse of seven days. He gave explanations of his detention, which seemed due to the patience with which we had waited for him so long on the burning sands. We were glad to see the old chief, though he brought us unfavorable news. Shekh Hassan has often been mentioned by travelers. We were seated beneath some palmtrees which overshadowed our tents, when he made his appearance. He is an old man, seventy years of age; but with no want of elasticity in his step, and with no dimness in his keen piercing eye. Dressed richly in the oriental manner, and seated erect on a fine horse, which bore him majestically from the mountains behind us, he wheeled slowly and proudly into our presence. As he rode he bore a beautiful spear in his right hand—some twelve feet in length. He held it gracefully and proudly, as if conscious of elevating upon its sharp and glittering point both the emblem and security of his barbarian power. He was accompanied by his brother and son. He heard our story, and promptly returned his answer. He informed us, that in consequence of some very recent difficulties, which had sprung up among the Arab tribes, it would be impossible, in accordance with our original intention, to reach Palestine by the way of Hebron; and would be very difficult to advance even as far as Petra, the ancient capital of Idumea. We knew something of the power of this Edomite Chief, and that we could not go without his assistance. And although we offered him inducements, and made various propositions, he still insisted, that the attempt to reach Hebron, in particular, would be at the risk of property and lives;—and with an honorable frankness, he declined entirely the responsibility of conducting us.

Under these circumstances we were obliged to give up some of the objects we had in view; especially our visit to Petra which was but a few days distance from us; and whose remains of dwellings, tombs, and temples, excavated with taste and skill in the lofty rocks which overhang its narrow valley, have been the admiration of travelers. Altering the plan of our route with the view to reach the shore of the Mediterranean, and in the expectation of entering Palestine by the way of the old Philistine town of Gaza, we at once made preparation for our departure. The old Alloween chief, who showed in his intercourse with us that he was neither wanting in kind feelings nor in a good share of practical shrewdness, readily furnished the requisite camels and men. The Bedouin Arabs, under whose guidance we were now placed, have the reputation of being among the rudest and wildest of this peculiar and remarkable race of people. Their appearance, as they came around us and took possession of our tents and baggage, was not at variance with their reputation. The chief Hassan, thinking it unnecessary to attend us in person, or perhaps called to more urgent duties somewhere else, committed our escort to the charge of his brother. (Concluded to-morrow.)

Removal of the Telegraph Office.

The Telegraph office in this city has been removed from Main street to one of the offices in Strickland's Block, on Kenduskeag Bridge, where the Company is now prepared to forward messages to the whole world of mankind.

The Maine Telegraph Company, under the superintendence of James Eddy, Esq., is one of the best managed Telegraph Companies in the country, and does its business promptly, faithfully, and at reasonable charges, and justly meets and largely receives the public confidence. The recent enlargement of the property of this company, by the purchase of other lines, will greatly facilitate the telegraph business.

We have had opportunity to notice the efficiency and ability of Mr. Eddy for this business, and should be unwilling to have him even temporarily withdrawn, for any other purpose than that of conducting the great line to the Pacific He is just the man for that undertking, and will forward the work with despatch and command for the business any amount of support. Congress can do no better—cannot do as well as by accepting his proposals and gratifying the People in constructing the Pacific line.

Festival of the Alumni of the Bangor High School.

Arrangements have been made for a grand festival of the Alumni of the Bangor High School, at the Bangor House, on Thursday evening next. This school was established between eighteen and nineteen years since, and so large a number have graduated and gone out into the active world to take part in its movements, that a gathering of them, and a gathering of its intellectual forces in person, and by letter cannot but be highly interesting and useful

We learn that on this occasion the alumni will take with them their jewels in the company and companionship of ladies. This is a good movement and will add new graces and charms to the festival It is a popular thing and about fifty ladies have already accepted invitations and given assurance of being present. The members of the Alumni Association will be out in large numbers, and we learn that the Superintending School Committee of 1835 are among the invited guests and others who have taken a special interest in the welfare of the school,—its honorary members and a limited number of others. A delegation from the Alumni in Boston, chosen at a public meeting there, will be present, and letters have been received from most of the Alumni who are now scattered in different States and countries.—These letters will afford a rich treat to the company.

This reunion will be one of the most attractive affairs of the season, and will prove the happy influence which the High School has exerted, and the good it has accomplished. It will serve, we doubt not, to awaken a new interest in the success of the school, and will encourage its highly valued and efficient teacher, who has labored with so much zeal and success, to go forward with his work in the assurance that he will continue to find a reward and a solace in the confidence and esteem of the matured minds of his pupils

We certainly wish the association the happiest results from their organization, and the highest enjoyment in their well arranged festival.

Boston Almanac, 1854.

We have received from David Bugbee a copy of the Boston Almanac for 1854, published by J. P. Jewett & Co. It is a neat and very convenient annual, fit to occupy a place on the parlor table, the book shelf, or the desk. It is packed with information, has a map of New England showing the Railroad and Telegraph Lines, a map of the city of Boston, a historical and pictorial account of the Churches in Boston, a Business Directory of Boston, and various other matters of beauty and of use.

This work may be found at David Bugbee's Bookstore, on Kenduskeag Bridge.

☞ In his beautiful address before the Boston Charitable Mechanics' Association, the Hon. Robert C. Winthrop recommended active measures for erecting a monument to Franklin in his native city of Boston. He also paid a high compliment to Epes Sargent, Esq., for his cheap and elegant edition of the Select Works of Franklin, including his Autobiography and a Memoir and the choicest of his writings This is the first time that Franklin's Works have been placed within the means of the million.

The steamship Sarah Sands sailed from Portland for Liverpool at 7 A M, Sunday morning, with a cargo principally made up of flour, ashes and bags of butter. She made her way to sea without a pilot The ship Evening Star is very nearly loaded for the same place with a similar cargo chiefly, and the balance in St. John dease.

☞ We would refer the reader to the notice of our neighbor John Ayer, to be found in another column, of his choice stock of rich fur goods, which are now in high repute, are exceedingly fashionable and much sought for by the ladies. Mr. Ayer has a taste for elegant goods, and he understands exactly how to please our good people.

☞ Mr. Hamlin, from Maine, was one of the dozen in the United States Senate who voted against authorizing the President to confer the title of Lieutenant General by brevet on the gallant Winfield Scott, the greatest military Captain in all the wide world The resolution passed to be engrossed 30 to 12.

☞ David Blunt entered upon his duties as Treasurer of Somerset County on the 14th inst. Mr. Pratt, the retiring Treasurer, informs the Press that all the taxes for 1852 had been collected, with the exception of fifty cents, and paid into the Treasury.

☞ A new post-office has been established at Casco, Me., called Webb's Mills, and Anson Jordan, Esq., has been appointed Postmaster.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

Amount collected from all sources,	$262,00
Amount distributed in Wood,	$278,35
Leaving deficit in Treasury,	$16,35.

As the condition of the Treasury will require the "Committee of Means" to make an early call on the friends of the cause, we hope they will respond readily and liberally.

☞ The storm yesterday was very severe here, and on the sea shore much more so. The stages at Rockland made two attempts to get on, but gave up. They were unable to proceed on account of the blinding snow. No stable keeper there would permit a horse to be taken out, even to mend a break in the telegraph wire. About eight inches of snow fell and drifted badly.

☞ The Free-Will Baptist Sabbath School held a grand Levee at the City Hall on Monday evening and were honored with a large company, which they entertained and feasted in a very fine manner The Christmas tree was beautiful and richly laden, and in its distribution gave great delight.

There were speeches, songs, declamations and one of the best social, chatty, and agreeable meetings we have attended for a long while

☞ The muses have been strongly and successfully invoked by our Carrier Boys for the New Year, towards which they are looking with great anxiety It is their first attempt and they have been carrying pens behind their ears for a fortnight—indulging in the sports of poetry, and hoping by and by to become editors, but not until after New Year's Day—the imps!

☞ The Canadians and some others took it a little hard that no liquors or wines were furnished at the steamship festival in Portland, but the State of Maine says that in the examinations of the Sarah Sands, under the admiralty, the Maine Law did not apply!

☞ Messrs May & Marble and Mr. Isaac W. May have sold out their interest in the "State of Maine," published at Portland, to Messrs. C. D Bearce & Co John Edwards, Esq., who has been connected with the paper from the first, still remains in the concern. The paper will be continued by C. D. Bearce & Co.

☞ The New York Courier and Enquirer, in opposition to the view taken by the Secretary of the Treasury, that the balance of trade for the last year had been in favor of this country, undertakes to demonstrate that the actual balance was against us by no less a sum than $66,-690,000

☞ A dividend of three per cent. is made upon the stock of the Atlantic and St. Lawrence Railroad upon all shares outstanding December 20th, on which day the transfer books are closed, till after the first of January

☞ The "shell" war has extended to Pennsylvania. A "National" democratic organization has been commenced in Philadelphia, and it is expected that a demonstration will be made against the re-election of Gov Bigler, who is denounced as a "soft"

☞ Mayor Seaver of Boston, proposes to make a trip to Europe, and other places of interest. He will probably sail about the 25th of January next.

☞ A typographical error crept into our notice of the Festival of the Alumni of the High School, yesterday, and we republish the article to-day, corrected.

CAUGHT.—We noticed two likely young negro men, shipped on board the steamer Telegraph yesterday, from the Covington wharf, for Louisville. They were carefully hand-cuffed, separately and jointly, and showing other evidence of having been roughly handled. Upon inquiry, we learned they had been arrested on Monday morning, on the Ben Franklin, charged with enticing away slaves from the neighborhood of Louisville The culprits are both citizens of Canada, one having emigrated thither some years ago from New Albany, and the other, we believe, from Louisville. The evidence, or rather the rumor is, that they came back expressly to assist some colored friends off by the underground line, and upon this charge they have been sent back to Louisville for trial —Cincinnati Commercial, 21st.

It has been stated in the report of the proceedings of the House of Representatives, that on Wednesday Mr. Phillips offered a resolution instructing the Committee on Commerce to inquire into the propriety of continuing and completing such of the river and harbor improvements as were appropriated for at the last session, and which in the opinion of the committee, are within the constitutional power of the government, and of general interest and importance, and that they report at an early day, by bill or otherwise. The resolution passed by a vote of yeas 111, nays 54.

In the late libel case of Fry vs. Bennett, one of the witnesses testified that he wrote the Parisian correspondence of the New York Herald, at home in the latter city.

California Items.

We were shown on Monday, says the Downieville Echo, a pan nearly full of gold, over $800, which was pounded in a common mortar, out of a lump of quartz, weighing ten pounds five ounces. The lump was found on the Middle Yuba, in the claim of the Humboldt Company on Humboldt Flat.

The past fortnight has been a very important one for the miners The rain has filled the gulches and raised the rivers, and the works of the dry season are closed. The diggins in the river-beds have been abandoned, and in many cases valuable dams, flumes, &c. have been swept away, although the rise has not been great. The miners now look back upon and count their profits and losses for the last six months. The shipments show that undiminished amounts of gold have been produced, yet many of the diggers complain that they have spent much money in canaling, machinery, &c, and have made little

The miners are pretty well prepared for the winter, and if it be favorable the golden harvest will be richer than ever.

Some miners, who have no good prospect for the winter, are preparing for next summer. Canals, to be finished by June, have been commenced on the North Yuba, Middle Yuba and North Fork of the American River. Many similar enterprises have been planned, and they will have a very important effect on the prosperity of the mines

Thanksgiving was duly observed in San Francisco, and it may be some consolation to those in Boston who had to pay 16 cents per lb for turkeys on that occasion to know that in San Francisco the prices ranged from sixteen to twenty-four dollars a piece

The San Francisco papers had heard nothing from Walker's Filibuster expedition to Sonora. It was understood that the party consisted of 200 men.

The State Reform School.

On Friday last, we availed ourselves of a kind invitation to visit the State Reform School and were amply repaid for the time employed in so doing The building itself makes an imposing appearance, and is situated in a very pleasant locality in Westbrook, some three miles from the city of Portland. The farm, we believe, contains some 160 acres, the buildings are ample and well-arranged, and the various apartments admirably adapted for their appropriate uses

The school room, work rooms, cooking and eating rooms, and the sleeping apartments are all well-arranged, and in perfect order. A good supply of water is brought into the building and both hot and cold baths are allowed the inmates as often as necessary The Superintendent, Mr Lincoln, seems admirably adapted to his situation, and we were much pleased with the appearance of Miss Dow, the matron of the establishment, in the motherly care she seemed to bestow upon those under her charge From the appearance of all we saw connected with the establishment, we think we cannot be mistaken in the opinion that it is under most judicious management

The Assistant of the Superintendent at the present time, is a graduate of the State Reform School of Massachusetts, and he is said to be perfectly reliable in any situation—a fact which speaks volumes in favor of institutions of this kind. This School has been open but a short time, and there are now within its walls, ten boys from ten to eighteen years of age, from Cumberland, Kennebec, and Penobscot counties

There are apartments we think for the accommodation of some one hundred and eighty persons, which we trust may never be all filled but we think none can fail to see the advantages and necessity of such an institution as this, and rejoice at its establishment in the State

We have written the above in haste, without attempting anything like a particular description of an institution in which all are interested for the spirit of the age is seeking to prevent, rather than restrain crime, and save the youthful rather than punish the old offender, and here shall many be turned from the error of their ways, and shown the path of rectitude and honor, respectability and safety.—State of Maine

☞ By what sort of a hocus pocus did the editor of the "State of Maine" contrive to remove the building of the State Reform School from Cape Elizabeth to Westbrook?

"The Glory of Man and the Graceful Ornament of Woman."

☞ What is there more glorious or more beautiful than to see a rich, luxuriant head of hair on either man or woman? And when those rich tresses on woman begin to decay by disease, how important that we have some preventive or cure! There are a thousand different preparations brought into use purporting to prevent hair from falling off, or causing a new growth when the head has become bald, but all of little or no use, and very often injuring the diseased roots more than doing them good But there IS an article which has recently been discovered in New York, which WILL prevent Hair from falling out, and is guaranteed to produce a good growth of Hair on heads that have become bald. We have one case in Boston of an elderly lady who has used it and who is willing to certify to the truth of the above And to induce people to try it, the General Agent of New England offers for a reasonable sum to guarantee a good head of Hair on any one who will try it thoroughly, in three months time, or no charge for the article. Now, come one, come all, it costs you nothing to try it! The preparation is called HURD'S HAIR RESTORER. Read the following certificate from a gentleman well known in this city, as well as New York

New York, Dec. 2, 1853.

Mr Hurd—Dear Sir,—I have been bald for the past five years, and as my father's and grandfather's family were bald at an early age, it was considered hereditary, and thought impossible to produce new hair on my head, and indeed every thing failed unto. I was induced to use your Hair Restorer I commenced using it about six weeks ago, and where my head was then bald it is now covered with a vigorous growth of new hair and there is no doubt it will produce hair on any bald head.

New and Elegant Goods.

We dropped in at Fenno & Hale's store at 24 Main street, the other day, attracted by the splendid display of elegant articles from the outside, and found a corresponding richness within. Their stock comprises all branches of the watch, clock, jewelry, silver ware, and ornamental business combined. In jewelry they have many very fine specimens; from the most costly to the more moderate in price. They have a beautiful and finely executed variety of Parian statuettes, busts and vases, which attracts particular attention, and an endless display of card trays, &c. &c. In fact they have a perfect museum of gems in all kinds of elegant articles, together with toys for "Young America," and their establishment is just the place where the "democracy of numbers" can procure all sorts of things suitable for Christmas and New Year Gifts to all ages and both sexes.

Fashionable Eating House!

Knowles & Johnson,
No. 5 Bowman's Block, East End of Kenduskeag Bridge, Bangor.

WE have opened a beautiful establishment for the sale of

and have several apartments and well finished rooms fitted up with Marble Tables, for the purpose of furnishing to gentlemen, and also to ladies and gentlemen, a nice tit-bit in the shape of a Luncheon, or a neat and comfortable Meal, at any hour of the day and at a moment's notice.

☞The entrance to the Ladies' Saloon is by the stairway entrance to the Mercantile Association Reading Room.☜

This is a fast age, and gentlemen visiting the city with their wives do not like a long edious waiting for a set and formal dinner under the ponderous machinery of a hotel, and our plan is to give them an elegant meal in our Saloon, without the loss of time, and at about half the hotel price. A gentleman in a hurry, a gentleman belated or obstructed by a stormy day, can pop in, get a nice meal without trouble, and with little loss of time.

We have made the beginning to one of the most convenient and popular arrangements said to the times, and we intend to keep up its respectability and usefulness.

OYSTERS served in all the various Styles.

Pies,
Pastry,
Fruits,
Preserves,
Nuts,
Apples,
Oranges,
Hot Tea,
Hot Coffee.

Families and Parties served with all varieties of the above, in any quantity, and at reasonable prices.

☞Please to call in and try our establishment.

20,000 Acres of Pine Land for Sale.

THE subscriber offers for sale 126 Lots of valuable Pine Lands, situated on Flint River, Lapeer county, Michigan.

These lands were selected at an early day by careful and experienced lumbermen, and are among the first locations made in the vicinity now so celebrated for the superior quality of its lumber. The locations were made in 40 and 80 acre tracts, and most of on the stream, commanding the River for a distance of five miles

There are none of these lands situated over two miles from navigable water, and all of them within three miles run of the mouth of Saginaw River.

The timber upon them is of the choicest kind, growing large, straight and sound, and will yield a very large share of clear, soft, cork pine, besides a very large quantity of Ship Spars, of the finest quality and largest size.

These lands have been examined by several of the best surveyors in the State, and the lowest estimate made of the amount of timber upon them is One Hundred and Fifty Millions Feet.

In quantity, quality of timber and location, it is the best tract of Pine Land ever offered for sale in the State, and in view of the failing forests in the eastern lumbering districts, the rapidly increasing demand for pine lumber in the Western country, as also in the Eastern, together with the large number of mills constructed and being constructed on the Saginaw River, requiring their supply of logs mainly from this quarter, presents to lumbermen an opportunity for investment seldom offered

Terms—One fourth cash, balance in 1, 2 and 3 years

In addition to the above, the subscriber offers for sale two of the best Mill Sites on the Saginaw River, capable of turning out 5,000,000 feet of lumber annually.

All of the above property will be withdrawn from sale by the 20th of January next, unless previously disposed of.

Green Mountain Vegetable CEMENT.

BROKEN China, Glass, Earthen Ware, and Fancy Articles of every description repaired and mended—making it as strong as before broken, without injuring its appearance.

This Cement, which has been proved to be of great strength, will be found particularly useful in every family; the simple manner of its application is alone a recommendation. The adhesive property which it contains is so wonderful that many things will rather break in a fresh place than where they have been mended with it. The variety of purposes for which it may be used are so numerous that it would be difficult to recite them. Its success in mending Glass, China, &c., is extraordinary, no ordinary degree of heat affecting it, and as the joints are scarcely perceptible, articles of this kind may be made useful for years, which otherwise would have been cast away.

THE GREATEST
MEDICAL DISCOVERY OF THE AGE!

MR KENNEDY of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures EVERY KIND OF HUMOR from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple — He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both thunder humor) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face

Two or three bottles will clear the system of biles

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach

Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of erysipelas

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humors in the eyes

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers

One bottle will cure scaly eruptions of the skin

Two or three bottles warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate cases of rheumatism

Three or four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum

Five to eight bottles will cure the very worst case of scrofula

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day as that a common weed, growing on the pastures and along old stone walls, should cure every humor in the system, yet it is now a fixed fact If you have a humor it has to start There are no ifs nor ands, hums nor ha's about it, suiting some cases but not yours I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston I know the effects of it in every case It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts I gave it to children a year old, to old people of sixty I have seen poor, puny wormy looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle

To those who are subject to a sick headache, one bottle will always cure it It gives great relief in catarrh and dizziness Some who have taken it have been costive for years and have been regulated by it Where the body is sound it works quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular feelings, but you must not be alarmed—they always disappear in from four days to a week There is never a bad result from it—on the contrary when that feeling is gone you will feel yourself like a new person I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever man listened to

TESTIMONIALS.

The following certificate from Dr John C Warren, of Boston was given 17 years since, but will last forever

Boston, Jan 5 1853.

Having had occasion to observe that some persons afflicted with Hernia have suffered much from the want of a skilful workman in accommodating Trusses to the peculiarities of their cases I have taken pains to inform myself of the competency of Mr J F Foster to supply the deficiency occasioned by the death of Mr Beath — After some months of observation of his work, I am well satisfied that Mr Foster is well acquainted with the manufacture of these instruments, and ingenious in accommodating to the variety of cases which occur I feel called upon to recommend him to my professional brethren, and to the public as a person well fitted to supply their wants in regard to these important articles

JOHN C WARREN, M D

The undersigned take great pleasure in recommending to the favorable consideration of those who are unhappily afflicted with Hernia Mr James Frederick Foster, as a skilful and competent person in the manufacture and fitting of Trusses We have employed him (some of us over twenty years) and therefore speak from personal knowledge of his abilities His early advantages his long experience in the business and the large number of individuals whom he has relieved in a variety of cases render him, in our opinion, equal, if not superior, to any manufacturer of the article His father, Dea Gideon Foster, of Charlestown, was master of the Poor house in that town for upwards of twenty four years, during which period Mr Foster availed himself of the opportunity, and made application of Trusses to a great variety of cases, with great success, some of which were of a very complicated and distressing character

It is well known to all who have occasion to wear a Truss, that its great excellence consists in its adaptation to the body at the same time relieving the patient Any ordinary mechanic may make a Truss but none but a skilful practitioner can apply it in such a manner as effectually, and oftentimes radically cure the complaint

Our experience has convinced us that Mr Foster has thoroughly attained this knowledge The certificates of Dr J C Warren, and other eminent surgeons which he has shown to us fully sustain the opinion we here express

Invigorating Cordial,
.... A ....
Phenomenon in Medicine.

Health Restored & Life Lightened by Dr. Morse's Invigorating Elixer, or Cordial.

For centuries Medical science has been ransacking the vegetable and mineral kingdoms, in search of something that should restore the lost or decaying energies of the nervous and muscular systems, without the drawback of subsequent prostration, which all stimulants tonics and narcotics had heretofore entailed — That something has been found. It is a vegetable production, brought from the sterile deserts of Arabia the Stony, by the celebrated Professor M Morse well known as a distinguished member of the leading scientific societies of the Old world and equally distinguished as a physician, a chemist and a traveller The juices of this herb concentrated and combined with other vegetable medicinal extracts, are now producing results heretofore unheard of, in this or any other country At first the properties attributed to Prof MORSE'S INVIGORATING ELIXER OR CORDIAL, were deemed fabulous The public often deceived could not believe the simple and sublime truths announced by the discoverer But facts, undeniable facts, attested by witnesses of the highest class and character, are now triumphing over all doubts Incredulity is overthrown, by a mass of testimony which is perfectly irresistable

The ELIXER remedies, in all cases, the deplorable evils arising from a misuse or abuse of the various organs which make up the wonderful machine called man It restores to full vigor every delicate function connected with that mysterious compound agency of matter and mind necessary to the reproduction of human life. To persons of feeble muscular frame, or deficient in vital power, it is recommended as the only means of communicating that energy which is necessary to the proper enjoyment of all the natural appetites as well as the higher mental attributes Its beneficial effects are not confined to either sex or to any age The feeble girl, the ailing wife the listless enervated youth, the over worn man of business, the victim of nervous depression the individual suffering from general debility or from the weakness of a single organ will all find immediate and permanent relief from the use of this incomparable renovator To those who have a predisposition to paralysis it will prove a complete and unfailing safeguard against that terrible malady There are many perhaps, who have so often trifled with their constitutions that they think themselves beyond the reach of medicines Let not even these despair The Elixer deals with disease as it exists, without reference to causes, and will not only remove the disorder itself, but

REBUILD THE BROKEN CONSTITUTION

The derangements of the system leading to nervous diseases and the forms of nervous disease itself, are so numerous that it would require a column to enumerate the maladies for which this preparation is a specific A few however may be enumerated, viz neuralgia, tic doloreux headache incipient paralysis, hysteria, palpitation of the heart spinal affections, muscular debility, tremors flatulence, a pricking sensation in the flesh, numbness, torpidity of the liver, mental depression weakness of the will, indisposition to move, faintness after exercise, broken sleep and terrifying dreams, inability to remain in one place or position weakness of the procreative organs, sexual incompetency, melancholy monomania fluor albus, sinking at the stomach, female irregularities a chronic tendency to miscarriage emaciation and all complaints growing out of a free indulgence of the passions and all barrenness that does not proceed from organic causes beyond the reach of medicine

Whenever the organs to be acted upon are free from malformation or structural diseases it is averred that

MORSE'S INVIGORATING ELIXER

Will replace weakness with strength, incapacity with efficiency irregularity with uniform and natural activity and this not only without hazard of reaction, but with a happy effect on the general organization ☞ Bear in mind that all maladies, wherever they begin finish with the nervous system and that the paralization of the nerves of motion and sensation is physical death Bear in mind also, that for every kind of nervous disease the Elixer Cordial is the only reliable preparation known

CURE OF NERVOUS DISEASES

No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the diseased debilitated and shattered nervous system whether broken down by excess, weak by nature, or impaired by sickness the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once braced revivified and built up. The mental and physical symptoms of nervous disease vanish together under its influence Nor is the effect temporary on the contrary, the relief is permanent, for the cordial properties of the medicine reach the constitution itself and restore it to its normal condition

LOSS OF MEMORY,

Confusion giddiness rush of blood to the head melancholy mental debility hysteria wretchedness thoughts of self destruction fear of insanity hypochondriasis, dyspepsia general prostration irritability, nervousness, inability to sleep diseases incident to females decay of the propagating functions hysteria monomania vague terrors, palpitation of the heart impotency constipation etc etc from whatever cause arising it is, if there is any reliance to be placed on human testimony, absolutely infallible

A GREAT MEDICINE FOR FEMALES.

The unparalleled effects of this great restorative in all complaints incident to females mark a new era in the annals of medicine Thousands of stimulants have been invented—thousands of invigorants concocted—all purporting to be specifics in the various diseases and derangements to which the delicate forms of woman render her liable The results have heretofore been uniform These nostrums have indeed imparted a momentary vivacity to the nervous system a transient and delusive vigor to the muscles but this flash of relief has been succeeded by a depression and prostration greater than before, and the end has too often been utterly to paralyze the recuperative power of the nerves and the vital organization and finally to destroy the unhappy patient

EVERY WOMAN OF SENSE,

who suffers from weakness, derangement, nervousness, tremors pains in the back or any other disorder whether peculiar to her sex, or common to both sexes—to give the Invigorating Cordial a trial

or others will find this Cordial after they have used a bottle or two a thorough regenerator of the system In all directions are to be found the happy parents of healthy offspring who could not have been so but for this extraordinary preparation And it is equally potent for the many diseases for which it is recommended Thousands of young men have been restored by using it, and not in a single instance has it failed to benefit them

or consumptive habits are restored by the use of a bottle or two to bloom and vigor changing the skin from a pale, yellow, sickly color to a beautiful florid complexion

TO THE MISGUIDED.

These are one of the sad and melancholly effects produced by early habits of youth viz weakness of the back and limbs pains in the head dimness of sight, loss of muscular power palpitation of the heart, dyspepsia, nervous irritability derangement of the digestive functions general debility, symptoms of consumption, &c

Mentally, the fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded Loss of memory confusion of ideas depression of spirits evil forebodings, aversion to society self distrust love of solitude, timidity &c , are some of the evils produced All thus afflicted

should reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness indeed, without these the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkens the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with your own

PARENTS AND GUARDIANS

are often misled with respect to the causes and sources of diseases in their sons and wards How often do they ascribe to other causes of wasting of the frame, idiocy, madness, palpitation of the heart, indigestion derangement of the nervous system cough and symptoms indicating consumption, when the truth is, that they have been inguiging in a pernicious, though alluring practice, destructive both to mind and body.

CAUTION.

DR MORSE'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL has been counterfeited by some unprincipled persons.

In future all the genuine Cordial will have the proprietor's fac simile pasted over the cork of each bottle, and the following words blown in the glass —

AYER'S PILLS.

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A

FAMILY PHYSIC.

THERE has long existed a public demand for an effective purgative pill which could be relied on as sure and perfectly safe in its operation This has been prepared to meet that demand, and an extensive trial of its virtues has conclusively shown with what success it accomplishes the purpose designed It is easy to make a physical pill, but not easy to make the best of all pills — one which should have none of the objections but all the advantages of every other This has been attempted here, and with what success we would respectfully submit to the public decision It has been unfortunate for the patient hitherto that almost every purgative medicine is acrimonious and irritating to the bowels This is not Many of them produce so much griping pain and revulsion in the system as to more than counterbalance the good to be derived from them These pills produce no irritation or pain unless it arise from a previously existing obstruction or derangement in the bowels Being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity but it is better that any medicine should be taken judiciously Minute directions for their use in the several diseases to which they are applicable are given on the box Among the complaints which have been speedily cured by them we may mention Liver Complaint in its various forms of Jaundice Indigestion, Languor and Loss of Appetite, Listlessness Irritability, Bilious Headache, Bilious Fever Fever and Ague Pain in the Side and Loins, for in truth, all these are but the consequence of diseased action in the liver As an aperient, they afford prompt and sure relief in Costiveness, Piles, Colic, Dysentery, Humors, Scrofula and Scurvy, Colds with soreness of the body, Ulcers and impurity of the blood in short and every case where a purgative is required

They have also produced some singularly successful cures in Rheumatism Gout Dropsy, Gravel Erysipelas, Palpitation of the Heart Pains in the Back, Stomach and Side They should be freely taken in the spring of the year to purify the blood and prepare the system for the change of seasons An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action and restores the appetite and vigor They purify the blood, and by their stimulant action on the circulatory system renovate the strength of the body, and restore the wasted or diseased energies of the whole organism Hence an occasional dose is advantageous even though no serious derangement exists but unnecessary dosing should never be carried too far as every purgative medicine reduces the strength when taken to excess The thousand cases in which a physic is required cannot be enumerated here, but they suggest themselves to the reason of every body and it is confidently believed this pill will answer a better purpose than any thing which has hitherto been available to mankind When their virtues are once known the public will no longer doubt what remedy to employ when in need of a cathartic medicine .
